25th CCFP Roundtable Conference

October 17-19, 2016

CACFP ~ Creating a Healthier Next Generation by Building a Healthy Culture

Warmest Greetings Conference Attendees

We are thrilled to welcome you to the 25th Annual Child Care Food Program Roundtable (CCFP) Conference. The Conference Planning Committee has set the stage to highlight the many talented people involved in CACFP from across the country - giving conference attendees an opportunity to learn and share CACFP best practices, new research and experiences.

Together at this conference we will be defining and driving the future of the CACFP Community. CACFP Past. Present. Future. is this year's conference theme which aims to highlight the contributions made and importance of the action that CACFP took in the past, right now and the action that CACFP will take in the future.

"We're set to celebrate, with you, 25 years of Child Care Food Program Roundtable conference excellence and building relationships that last a lifetime."

The Roundtable also invites you to join us as we celebrate the "CACFP take ACTION Challenge" ACTIONEERS and what they accomplished this past year!

As always, we strive to provide attendees the perfect meeting ground for those working in the CACFP community. Take the opportunity this week to build more CACFP relationships with other attendees, USDA, State Agencies, the advisory committee, sponsors, partners, presenters and exhibitors.

CACFP new ideas, education, partnerships and innovative thinking starts now!

Warmest Regards,
The CCFP Roundtable Advisory Committee

California CACFP Annual Mandatory Training CACFP Procurement - Past, Present and Future

The 2016-17 Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) Mandatory Training will provide an overview of procurement standards that have been in effect for years (PAST). Program Directors will learn what action they need to take now (PRESENT) to comply and what to expect moving forward (FUTURE). The Nutrition Services Division will cover all procurement methods - micro purchases, informal purchases and formal purchases (ie; Invitations for Bids and Request for Proposals). In addition, participants will learn which procurement procedures they need in writing and how they can develop a code of conduct which promotes open and fair competition while avoiding any real or apparent conflicts of interest. This session will fulfill the annual mandatory training requirement. If you attend this session you will not be required to take the 2016-17 mandatory training again later in the year.

Presenters: Laurie Pennings and Justin Adelman.

*Pre-Conference Note: Separate Registration is Required for this Pre Conference Session. CACFP agencies must register separately for this California mandatory training pre-conference session through the Fresno City College Cal-Pro-NET. No OnSite Registration

MEET THE SPEAKERS

Tuesday, October 18, 2016

Kevin W. Concannon was nominated by President Obama and Secretary Vilsack and confirmed by the U.S. Senate in July 2009 to serve as Under Secretary for Food, Nutrition and Consumer Services in the United States Department of Agriculture. Food, Nutrition, and Consumer Services has principal responsibilities and funding authority for Food and Nutrition Service (FNS), which serves 1 in 4 Americans and has lead responsibilities for promoting healthful diet through the Center for Nutrition Policy and Promotion. Working in partnership with State and local organizations, FNS oversees the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program formerly known as the Food Stamp Program: child nutrition programs including National School Lunch, School Breakfast and Summer Food Service Programs; the Child and Adult Care Food Program; the Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women and Infant and Children (WIC); the Commodity Supplemental Food Program; Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations; the Emergency Food Assistance Program; and other nutrition programs.

Marion Standish is Vice President at Enterprise Programs, The California Endowment. Ms. Standish joined The California Endowment (TCE) with an extensive legal and philanthropic background. She is responsible for managing resources that support collaboration and alignment across all TCE Departments to achieve TCE's mission and Building Health Communities' goals and outcomes. Ms. Standish leads multiple philanthropic partnerships, provides Strategic guidance to Impact Investing activities and works closely with TCE's Chief Learning Officer to achieve organizational goals. Ms. Standish serves as lead officer for the Endowment with the Partnership For A Healthier America, The First Lady's Let's Move! Initiative, California's Let's Get Healthy effort and the National Convergence Partnership. She played a key role in developing and implementing many TCE signature initiatives, including the Partnership For the Public's Health, Community Action To Fight Asthma and Healthy Eating Active Communities.

Andrea Farmer MS, RD, LD, is a nutritionist with the USDA Food and Nutrition Service (FNS), Child Nutrition Programs. For the past 6 years, her area of expertise has been the USDA's Child and Adult Care Food Program, first at the State level and now at the FNS National office. She leads the USDA effort to create resources and guidance materials to help child care centers and home providers meet the nutrition, physical activity and screen time recommendations in the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act of 2010 (HHFKA). Ms. Farmer served as the project manager for USDA formative research conducted in 2014 among CACFP audiences and manages an interagency workgroup of CACFP stakeholders that provides input to help USDA implement the HHFKA recommendations. Prior to working in CACFP, she held a number of diverse positions including adjunct professor in nutrition and fitness, private practice nutrition consultant, clinical and foodservice dietitian and small business owner. Ms. Farmer has presented at numerous national conferences.

Sandip Kaur is the Director of the Nutrition Services Division (NSD) of the California Department of Education. Prior to her appointment as Director, Ms. Kaur served as Acting Director for more than a year. From 2004 to 2011, Ms. Kaur served as the Chief of the Administration and Food Distribution Program in NSD for seven years and was instrumental in the design, development and implementation of the Child Nutrition Information and Payment System. Ms. Kaur was also responsible for making the NSD's Food Distribution Program more cost effective for sponsors and competitive with private food distribution companies. She has nearly 29 years of experience in California.

Michelle Bommarito is an accomplished Professional Chef, well-known Wedding Cake Designer, Food Coach and Motivational Speaker; popular TV/Radio personality, inspiring others to eat well and sharing her culinary techniques. Her work includes being a chef at the historic Waldorf Astoria hotel in New York, for Martha Stewart and as a Personal Chef for Athlete Michael Jordan. Throughout the years, she has appeared on Martha Stewart and Food Network. Bommarito has also worked with Institute of Child Nutrition (ICN) formerly National Food Service Management Institutes "Connect: Chefs to Schools" and "Healthy Cuisine for Kids". Both programs are initiated by our First Lady, Michelle Obama in order to bring awareness of obesity in children. By request, she travels extensively-both nationally and internationally to teach "Eating Well" Culinary Demonstrations, Motivational Speaking Engagements, Inspirational Wedding Cake Design Workshops and to judge competitions. Michelle is known to whirl about the room, using Italian gesticulations, whipping up a variety of "super power foods" for an audience eager to sample and learn. Thrumming with energy, her compelling instruction empowers people of all ages. She is passionate about eating right and inspirational regarding how to improve health and wellness through diet. Her goal: To make a difference in the fight against obesity and disease... More importantly to remind people to take better care of "you".

Creating a Healthier Melting Pot: Cultural Influence on Diet

Casey Craft, YWCA Metropolitan Chicago

Growing up in a culture has a deep influence on a family's diet. Children growing up in different cultures are subject to varying health risks such as heart disease and diabetes. Those risks increase with lower income levels, limited access to healthier foods and poor exercise habits. Some cultures incorporating lower-fat foods and high amounts of grains and vegetables can result in reducing the risks for diseases such as diabetes and cancer. However, the American diet has become a mixture of cultures and cuisines offering foods full of high fat and sugars. This workshop will help you understand the differences in the micro cultures within our larger American Culture and offer tools and resources to educate children and families about healthier lifestyle choices. Child Health and the Family Child Care Workforce: Exploring Food Environments and the Impact and Reach of Nutrition Standards

Elyse Homel Vitale, Hector Gutierrez, California Food Policy Advocates, Kenneth Hecht, Nutrition Policy Institute, Veronica Orona-Klinger, YMCA Childcare Resource Service

More young children than ever before are spending some portion of their daytime in child care. As the amount of time in care grows, child care providers play an increasingly important role in shaping the healthy development of children. In California - where one in four children lives in poverty - ensuring access to healthy food during child care offers an unequalled opportunity to mitigate the harmful effects of poverty. This presentation will look at the Child and Adult Care Food Program, nutrition standards, incentives, and policy opportunities to enhance the nutritional quality in family child care, while protecting the viability of the workforce. Early childhood has become an area of intense focus for nutrition education and obesity prevention efforts. Special considerations for program development exist because of the multiple settings and caregivers that are targeted when engaging young children in nutrition and physical activity programming. Multidisciplinary efforts are especially desirable when creating interventions; however, integration of various domains related to child development, nutrition and physical activity can be challenging. This session will include speakers whose expertise lies in nutrition, motor development/physical activity as well as child development. Guiding principles from each will be discussed and innovations will be presented in an interactive session. Track: CN

Protective Feeding: CACFP is Foundational for Health with Pat Crawford

The risk from children's eating and exercise habits surpasses their risk from tobacco, drugs and alcohol combined. CACFP in early childhood is a critical link to prevention of diabetes and other chronic disease before risk behaviors are established. How we approach our role as stewards of the CACFP will have a long term impact on the health of the children it serves.

Pat Crawford, Senior Director of Research and Cooperative Extension Specialist at the Nutrition Policy Institute (NPI) at the University of California, Division of Agriculture and Natural Resources. Prior to coming to NPI, she co-founded and directed the Center for Weight and Health at the University of California at Berkeley for 15 years. She is also an Adjunct Professor in the School of Public Health at UC Berkeley. Dr. Crawford studies ways in which nutrition programs and policies can improve children's dietary intake and reduce obesity. Dr. Crawford served on the California Legislative Task Force on Diabetes and Obesity and is an expert advisor for the Let's Get Healthy California Task Force. She chaired the Institute of Medicine's Workshop on Food Insecurity and Obesity and served on the IOM's Committee on WIC Research, the Committee on Accelerating Progress on Obesity Prevention and the IOM's Standing Committee on Childhood Obesity Prevention.

The Impact of a Multi-Agency Approach to Engaging Child Care Providers to Improve Nutrition and Physical Activity Practices in Los Angeles County

Helen O'Connor, Los Angeles County Department of Public Health, Jeanie Park, Child Care Alliance of Los Angeles, Jeremiah Garza, Sarah Samuels Center for Public Health Research & Evaluation

Created through a collaboration of the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health and the Child Care Alliance of Los Angeles, Choose Health LA Child Care works to reduce the prevalence of overweight/obesity among children in child care by providing nutrition and physical activity training and coaching to all types of child care providers and disseminating information to parents. Results from a participatory multi-method evaluation design will be presented. Evaluation methods include: pre- and post-self-assessment surveys to measure environmental change and provider self-efficacy, provider focus groups, coaching satisfaction surveys, and select onsite pre- and post-observational assessments. This innovative program could be replicated across the country as an opportunity for public health professionals to ally themselves with child care providers in the fight against childhood obesity.
